Intro

Am(x2) F C

Verse 1

C

Took a walk in Rotterdam, thinking about her train

E

All along the banks of memory, holding tide away

F

G

And on the end of every corner I could almost hear her sound

C

Time went by in ecstasy, walking next to walls

E

And the color of the water, was the rails that she was on

F

G

And when the whistles blew far away, I felt she knew somehow

Chorus

F

G

C

G

Am

For the train often rattles, from the rails shaking ground

F

G

C

Am F C

I close my eyes and almost hear her now

Verse 2

C

Took a walk in Rotterdam, dodging spoke and wheel

E

And a few unnerving riders, agile or insane

F

G

And the rest, victims of fashion, lord we re all to blame

C

Found myself a bar stool, and something on the rocks

E

I was dreaming I could ride the sun, westward as it dropped

F

G

And find her at the station, gracefully rolling to a stop

Chorus

F

G

C

G

Am

For the train often rattles, from the rails shaking ground

F

G

C Am F C

I close my eyes and see her westward bound

Bridge

G

F

Well I ll keep that mind a wandering, of love on the rails

C

G

Slow rolling days, steel pushing home

F

C

G

Mile over miles gone in the blink of an eye

Chorus
