Awesome band, awesome song. This is just how I play it--I think it s easier and simpler than other versions I ve seen. Hope it works for you guys :)

```
E                            Dm
Anything that happened when I was young,
E                Dm
it came so measly.
E                                   Dm
And now all of those things are haunting me,
E                  Dm
and nothing will calm.

Am                        F
I won t be offended if no one sees,
E                        Dm                   G
I just wanna know what that ll mean.
```

Am                 C            G
When I m alone I make believe that,
Am                      F        E
I m in a different time and place where,
Am                  C            G
nobody wants to know my name and
Am                      F    E
no one will recognize my face.
```

E                      Dm
Anything that I did way back when,
E                    Dm
it seems so long ago.
E                              Dm
Might as well have all been by accident,
E                    Dm
I ve nothing left to show.
```

Am                        F
I wont be offended if no one stays,
```

```
E                              Dm        G
I ll just blame it all on my old age.

Am              C          G
When I m alone I make believe that,
Am                    F        E
I m in a different time and place where,
Am              C          G
nobody wants to know my name and
Am                  F    E
no one will recognize my face.

C    Bb

Ab       Cm              Bb
2am, I m thinking about how lucky i ve been.
Ab                      Cm      Bb
I need to take a moment to myself.
Ab       Cm              Bb
6am, I m thinking about how lonely i ve been.
Ab                      Cm    Bb
I need to take a moment to myself.

(basically repeat that pattern until fade out)
