Acordesweb.com

Death Of Me City and Colour

this is my first tab so please rate it and tell me how I did. I found the other tab on this site wasn t quite right, so here is the version I play.

Standard Tuning

Chords used: F#m:022000 A: 320033 D/G:332010

Am:554030

Intro:

F#m, A, D/G, Am (x2)

[Verse]

F#m A D/G

Do I have nothing good left to say

Am F#m

Do I need whiskey to start fueling my complaints

. D/G

People love to drink their troubles away

Αm

Sometimes I feel that $I \hat{a} \in \mathbb{M} d$ be better off that way

[Chorus]

F#m A D/G

Cause maybe then I could sleep at night

m F#m

I wouldn't lie awake until the morning light

A D/G

This is something that I'll never control

Am

My nerves will be the death of me I know

F#m A

I know

D/G Am

I know

[Verse]

```
F#m
                                      D/G
So here's to living life miserable
                                                      F#m
And hereâ\in<sup>TM</sup>s to all the lonely stories that Iâ\in<sup>TM</sup>ve told
                                               D/G
Maybe drinking wine would validate my sorrow
Every man needs a muse and mine could be the bottle
[Chorus]
F#m
                                     D/G
Maybe then I could sleep at night
                                               F#m
I wouldn't lie awake until the morning light
This is something that I'll never control
My nerves will be the death of me I know
[Bridge]
D/G
                 Am
                                  F#m
Finally I could hope for a better day
                                                   F#m
No longer holding on to all the things that cloud my mind
D/G
Maybe then the weight of the world wouldn't seem so heavy
          D/G (stop)
                                Am (stop)
But then again I'll probably always feel this way
[Chorus]
                                            D/G
At least I know I'll never sleep at night
                         Am
I'll always lie awake until the morning light
This is something that I'll never control
                                       F#m
My nerves will be the death of me
                                     D/G
My nerves will be the death of me
My nerves will be the death of me
D/G Am F#m (slow Strum)
I know
```