SUCH IS THE MYSTERY " Cliff Richard

Intro: G - Bm G - Bm

(G) Let the day fall all around you
And (Em) let the breath of life surround you (Am) What a day it should be a (D) holiday

And those (G) lazy days are hard to come by (Em) Here for our pleasure, a moment to treasure (Am) Stay with me and lend me your (D) company

For (G) You, You show to (D) me
All the (C) world gives for (G) free
And there s no (Am) more that a
(G) man can ever (D) ask for

And if (G) we, we could (D) see half He (C) gave us to (G) see
Then we d be (Am) half way to (G) finding the (D) ans (G) wer

So (G) where will all the seasons go
It s for (Em) us to ask, it s for Him to know
It s (Am) too much for me, for such is the (D) mystery

And (G) all these things we take for granted
But (Em) how did they get here, when were they planted?
If (Am) we could see,
then what would the answer (D) be?

For (G) You, You show to (D) me
All the (C) world gives for (G) free
And there s no (Am) more that a
(G) man can ever (D) ask for

And if (G) we, we could (D) be half He (C) wants us to (G) be
Then we d be (Am) half way to (G) finding the (D) ans (G) wer

(G) Today we ll see the butterfly
And we ll (Em) smell the grass and we ll feel the sky
Oh (Am) what a day, let no one take this (D) away

But (G) I will live my life forever, (Em) asking the questions But answers will never (Am) come to me
For such is the (D) mystery

For (G) You, You show to (D) me
All the (C) world gives for (G) free
And there s no (Am) more that a
(G) man can ever (D) ask for

And if (G) we, we could (D) be half (C) He wants us to (G) be Then we d (Am) be half way to (G) finding the (D) ans (G) wer
