Chords for Nothings Wrong, if you have any fixes feel free to say them.

```
                        G#
You know it happens all the time
                               C#
Why don t you scream about it now
                       A#    D#
But what I really left behind
                        C#
Was just to compliment myself
                        G#
To even think about the world
                          C#
To even stop and think at all
                            A# D#
And that s exactly what my head
                        C#
And now I know I fell too long
      G#                  A#
Oh I cannot wait for this to
      G#          A#
I cannot to be alone
     G#             A#
I cannot for this to
       G#              D#
I cannot wait to be alone
G#  D#
I can t
  A#              C#
I feel bad when nothing s wrong
