Stay By My Side
Club 8

Capo 1st

Intro: Cm C#

   Cm                        C#
i can not say where my heart is
     Cm                   C#
it s all too much in my mind
                 Cm                        C#
the experience is gone before it s even here

           Cm                        C#
there was love on my mind in the weekdays
        Cm                        C#
and a longing for someone in the night
               Cm                        C# it was just a strive for what i can t have

G#
stay by my side
C#                            G# as we hope for someone to show
                 G#
don t leave my side
             Cm             C#
though it s not what we hoped for

Cm - C#

        Cm                              C#
you may take what you need when you want to
    Cm                   C#
and use me up if you wish
                 Cm             C#
feelings stay the same as i m asleep

          Cm                        C#
there was hope for a sense of belonging
       Cm                     C#
and a story was played in my mind
                   Cm                        C# a daydream s just enough for the state that I m in

G#
