One fine wire Colbie Caillat

Am
I try so many times
                                      G
but it s not taking me
                             F
and it seems so long ago
                                                                         G
that I used to believe Começa a batida:
                                                                                   F
and I m so lost inside of my head
                                                                          G
and crazy
Αm
but I cant get out of it
 I m just stumbling
And I m juggling all the thoughts in my head
I m juggling and my fears on fire % \frac{1}{2}\left( \frac{1}{2}\right) =\frac{1}{2}\left( \frac{1
but I m listening as it evolves in my head
                                                                                                                                              C
                                                                                                                                                                                  Am C Am C
I m balancing on one fine wire
And I remember the time my balance was fine
and I was just walking on one fine wire
I remember the time my balance was fine
                                                                                                                                                                                G
and I was just walking on one fine wire
but It s frayed at both the ends and I m slow unraveling
                                                                                                                                             C
Life plays so many games inside of me
                                                                                                                                       C
and I ve had some distant cries, following C F
and their entwined between the night and sun beams
                                                                                                               C

I wish I were free from this pain in me

And I m juggling all the thoughts in my head I m juggling and my fears on fire but I m listening as it evolves in my head I m balancing on one fine wire

And I remember the time my balance was fine and I was just walking on one fine wire I remember the time my balance was fine and I was just walking on one fine wire but it s frayed at both the ends and I m slow unraveling
