

I Volunteer
Collin Raye

this should be very close to the original song. maybe not perfect but it sounds right to me.

Artist: Collin Raye
Song Title: I Volunteer

Intro      F    C    G    C    F    C

C                                  F                                  C                                  G
You look like your feelin like the rain won t ever stop
C                                  F                                  C                                  G
Life has left you standing there one against the odds
Am                                  G                                  F
From now on you need to know you don t
                                G
have to stand alone

Dm                                  G
When the world turns you in circles and the
C                                  F
wind is at your face
                                Dm                                  G
And you need somewhere to run to I know
                                F    C    G    C
the place
                                F                                  G                                  E
If you want someone who s willing to lay
                                Am                                  Dm                                  G
down their hearts someone to dry your tears I m here I F    C    G    C
volunteer

C                                  F                                  C                                  G
A shoulder, a caring voice to tell you it s okay
C                                  F                                  C                                  G
Two arms meant to shelter you if ever you re afraid
Am                                  G                                  F
I ve got that and more to spare just say
                                G
the word and I ll be there

Dm                                  G

When the world turns you in circles and the

C F
