

Little Conversation
Concrete Blonde

From: * (Enrico_Giuseppe BETTIO)

I have been trying to work out some songs and I posted a few a while ago, If you or anyone else out there could help me work some stuff out that would be cool (the chords to the chorus of Rain would be cool. I know the intro) Failing that, just tell me any favourites and if I know them I ll send them to you

Heres one for today off FREE . This is what I posted a while ago, I think I would like to add to it a little but that will have to wait

Heres a song I think sounds pretty good on an accoustic I show in tab how to play the C-G-Am pattern in the verses Use your ring finger to do the C and G bass notes in the Am part I used to think he only was playing C bass notes but I gave it another listen to last night and I think he throws the odd G-bass note in I m not too sure about the fills but theyre close enough to keep me happy.

 C G Am C G Am
The little conversation, was over very soon
 C G Am F G
And I watch in admiration from my corner of the room
 C G Am
And they shine on me with starry eyes
 C G Am
And they rain a friendly storm
 C G Am
Like kids around a christmas tree
 F G
And then you smile all nice and warm

 F G C Am
These little conversations, if I try my very best
 F G C Am (fill 1)
You know I never could say anything in 20 words or less
 F G C Am
Somewhere sometime down the line, someday I may confess
 F G
and tell you all, thats all

The little conversations on me are very rough
They leave me all in pieces
You know theres never time enough
Its like a book with missing pages
A story incomplete
Its like a painting left unfinished
It feels like not enough to eat - starving..

You know these little conversations
Well for me they ll never do
Now what am I supposed to do
With broken sentences of you
I ll stay in my corner
Cos thats all that I can do
Let the others think for me
 F G C Am
Little conversations are we
