

Hard On Equipment
Corb Lund

[Verse]

E

He s been roundin off bolts since the age of fourteen

B7

E

Was that a five eighths or a nine sixteenths?

E

He s got a metric socket that don t quite fit

B7

E

Well it ll wiggle just a little but it ain t quite stripped

A

The safety guard s gone from his grinding machine

E

He got a stiff paint brush he only kinda got clean

A

He s the hired man, my neighbor and a cousin in law

E

B7

E

He s a jerry riggin fool, he got the tool for the job

[Chorus]

A

Well it s vise grips for pliers, and pliers for a wrench

E

A wrench for a hammer, hammers everything else

A

It just don t seem to make much difference

E

B7

E

I sure do like him but he s hard on equipment

[Verse]

E

His corners ain t square and his floor ain t level

B7

E

And he s always had trouble with the old tape measure

E

His doors don t close â€˜cause the jamb ain t plumb

B7

E

And he s a Goddamn menace with an air nail gun

A

They love to see him comin at the lumberyard store

E

Fixed the leak in his roof with a two by four

A

Drilled holes in his boards with the wrong kinda bit

E

B7

E

And when they don t line up he blames the government

[Chorus]

A

Well it s vise grips for pliers, and pliers for a wrench

E

A wrench for a hammer, hammers everything else

A

It just don t seem to make much difference

E

B7

E

I sure do like him but he s hard on equipment

[Verse]

E

He got the whole front yard full of fix æ~em up cars

B7

E

Three don t run and the rest won t start

E

Everything s fine with his rebuilt motor

B7

E

Except of course for the couple spare parts left over

A

Baler wire tie downs goin down the road

E

On two bald tires and an oversize load

A

He ain t never read a manual æ~cause that s like cheatin

E

E

He don t mind a little grease on his hands while he s eatin

[Chorus]

A

Well it s vise grips for pliers, and pliers for a wrench

E

A wrench for a hammer, hammers everything else

A

It just don t seem to make much difference

E

B7

E

I sure do like him but he s hard on equipment
