Crash Test Dummies - afternoons and coffeespoons
Added By Mikhailo

(capo on third fret)

Intro: D G D G Asus4 A

D A D G G A
What is it that makes me just a little bit queasy
D A D G G A
There s a breeze that makes my breathing not so easy
F Bb C
I ve had my lungs checked out with X-rays
F Bb C Dm Bbsus2
I ve smelled the hospital hallways

(Sorry. Not really sure if this is what you call this chord. Basically play a Bb, but play the C note on the second string, not the D note.)

SHORT CHORUS:

D G D A
Someday I ll have a disappearing hairline
D G D A G A
Someday I ll wear pajamas in the daytime
D A D G G A
Times when the day seems like a play by Sartre
D A D G G A
When it seems a book burnings in perfect order
F Bb C
I gave the doctor my description
F Bb C Dm Bbsus2
I ve tried to stick to my prescription

LONG CHORUS:

D G D A
Someday I ll have a disappearing hairline
D G D A
Someday I ll wear pajamas in the daytime

G D
Oh, oh, oh, oh (or something to that effect)
A D G
Afternoons will be measured out
Bm G
Measured out and measured with
A D G G A
Coffeespoons and T.S. Eliot

(The remaining verse and chorus repeat the same chord progression)

Maybe if I could do a play-by-playback
I could change the test results that I would get back
I ve watched a summer evening pass by
I ve heard the rattle in my bronchi

REPEAT LONG CHORUS

Hope you can follow this.
