>From the sea

Here is one like sunrise
It s older than you know
It s still lying there where some careless wave
Forgot it long ago

When I awoke this morning
I dove beneath my floating home
Down below her graceful side in the turning tide
To watch the seafish roam

There I heard a story
>From the sailors of the Sandra Marie
There s another island a day s run away from here

And it s empty and free

>From here to Venezuela
There s nothing more to see
Than a hundred thousand islands flung like jewels upon the sea
For you and me

Sunset smells of dinner
Women are calling at me to end my tails
But perhaps I ll see you, the next quiet place
