

Welcome To Castle Irwell
Crywank

The whole song is really easy, just G to Em. Listen to the song to get the strumming right, also support the artist. crywank.bandcamp.com

[Intro]

G Em

G

I woke up this morning wanting to cry

Em

and when I called her I realized why.

G

Em

Although she was honest, she spoke with a cold tongue.

G

I broke down in the courtyard when it came to light

Em

she broke every promise in the space of one night.

G

Em

She made me hate this city, immediately.

G

I thought she was something else,

Em

but as it turns out she was just someone else.

G

There were four questions I wanted to ask,

Em

do you love him yet? Do you think it will last?

G

Were you wearing the pants I bought you?

Em

G

do you ever think he thought you resembled me in some way?

Em

a boy left to break.

G

We spent two years together,

G

I thought I made her better.

Em

Em

All my best friends told me I should forget her,

G

Em

but I never could, I thought that I should.

G

Em

I need to stop thinking about the things I'll never do again,

G

Em

and just be glad I did them, and I'm so glad I did them.

G G
First love does not mean best love,
Em Em
and best friends may not mean best friends forever,
G G Em
but they both mean at some point, somewhere, someone did care [nothing played]
and their memories still there.

G
I know she was special,
G
I know she was good,
Em
I know she wasn't flawless but I know I was loved.
G
I know she had passion,
G
I know she was kind,
Em
so why should an ending alter my state of mind.
G
Although I find it hard to relive her,
G
I know that I would always forgive her.
G Em G [one slow strum]
She says no regrets, and I say don't forget.
