Listen to the song for strumminess and just run between the root notes here and there to get that jungle blues feel...
Lots of jazzy chord voicings in this, so I've done what I can from the record. Also, I think CW sometimes tunes down to Eb, but this is for standard tuning.

Chords used.

VERSE 1

E/Adim	Am*	E/Adim	Am*	E/Adim
It was deep in the Jungles of Africa
Am*	E/dim	E7	E7/B
Where the bugs is thick as fleas
	E7	E7/B	E7	E7/B
And the heat will drive sane men crazy
E7	E7/B	Am*	E/Adim
And the water s full o disease
Am*	E/Adim	Am*	E/Adim
I went out walkin with a beautiful girl
Am*	E/Adim	E7	E7/B
Where the spotted honeysteppers fly

E7	E7/B	E7	E7/B
We lay down under the bamboo trees

VERSE 2

Well we made it down to a riverbank,
Spied a steamboat comin along,
Then we hitched a ride, lawd, lookin over the side,
Everything was goin on wrong,
There was bird-eatin spiders, big as my fist,
Snakes that hung down like vines
And eyes that watched as we drifted along ,
I sang that Jungle Lullaby

Singin, swingin,
On a lazy afternoon in paradise
Croonin, swoonin,
That old time song, where the days are long,
It s a Jungle Lullaby

(Just repeat chorus for the rest of the song)
Bom bow domp
Bomp ow domp ay ohh
lay dat omp
Folks you know, when we got back into town that night, there was excitement in the air.
I heard there was a party over at the Officers Club, so I took that girl on over,

man, we walked in the joint,
orchestra playin so sweet I thought I d die.
I got up on that old bandstand, sang that Jungle Lullaby.

Singin, swingin,
On a lazy afternoon in paradise
Croonin, swoonin,
That old time song, where the days are long,
It s a Jungle Lullaby
