Maragopa - Damien Jurado

This was taken from watching the video here:

He definitely is playing the Dm7, though the G* is a bit weird and I couldn't find a proper chord name. The chord progression is the same throughout, though with a small change at the end.

G* (E 000003 E)

F/C (E 012330 E)

Intro

Dm7 G Dm7 G x2

Dm7

G*

Its your oldest fear, that the love you can hear, will go
Its a deafening sound, we become light on the ground, then soil
To be one with the sky, where they should all collide and turn to gold

Dm7

G*

We all reign
We are rain

Dm7

G*

We are storms to be seen in the meadow, we are dreams to be free
Its where we bow our heads to pray, we are echoes god creates in the shade
Its where the light can come in, your breath becomes the wind in the trees

Dm7

G*

We are free
We are free

F/C G D

All are welcome in x4

END
