

The Last Day We Ever Close Our Eyes
Dan Andriano

Intro: G D G C D G

G D
You and I did sprout like a planted love,

G C
So deep in the ground that it grows on forever,

D G
So that everyone can feel it.

G D
And then bugs will come to fill up on our sweet blood,

G
To chew off the bark that shields us,

C D G
But we ll keep on growing towards the sun.

C Am
Nothing on this world could ever break us apart,

G C
All in heaven are going to cry when they can t figure out why

G
A fragile world with numbered days,

D
Here in the sun we dance we sway.

G
And when they finally kill the lights,

C Am7
You get the glass I ll pour the wine,

G D G
On the last day that we ever close our eyes.

Instrumental Break (same as intro): G D G C D G

G

D

Then what s it going to take away the bend that leads to a break

G

For centuries we burned at the stake,

C

D

G

But they won t see our ashes falling anytime soon.

G

No, I ve seen through the end,

D

I ve seen your hand holding my hand,

G

C

D

As we watch the clouds gather from every corner of the Earth,

G

But we are smiling.

C

Am

And we know that we have given this world everything that we can.

G

C

And a cold north wind is gonna blow on that day,

G

D

It s gonna bury us in snow that will never melt away.

G

C

Am7

All the stars in the sky are going to flicker once and die,

G

D

G

On the last day that we ever close our eyes.

G

C

I said a cold north wind is gonna blow on that day,

G

D

It s gonna bury us in snow that will never melt away.

G

C

Am7

All the stars in the sky are going to flicker once and die,

G

D

G

On the last day that we ever close our eyes.

(Strum once)

G

D

C

G

On the last day that we ever close our eyes_____.