

Foolish Pride

Dan Murray

foolish pride by dan murray

*note* hammer on and off C straight tuning (capo second fret)

verse 1:

C

unbutton me, roll up my sleeves

G

hang me by the curtains to dry

C

take off my tie, unfold me by and by

G

hang me in the closet to grow old

C

untie these suede shoes, let me sing my blues

G

of being soaked by the rain

C

this dog I own is tame, in he I take no shame

G

as I let him out to run and play

chorus:

D

F

As you can see the rest is up to me

G

while I sit and rest in glee

verse 2:

If i so decied, I can lower my pride and stay like all the rest and the moon instead here I lay, given into the hay resting by and by placed upon the shelf, this favorite book of mine the author unknown and the time this my dusty treasure, have I not but opened once to claim that it s mine

chorus 2:

as you can see the rest is up to me

while i sit and ponder what s inside

verse 3:

these weary days that pass, before my eyes through glass keep me on the inside wondering the days that lie ahead, i think of in my bed asleep like brian wilson did taken by the rain, while my insides pain aching through these rainy days as the children play and while i lay in ha my foolish mind is hardening

chorus 3
as you can see the rest is up to me placing trust in no one that i see
