Intro - | E | F#m7 | Adim | E |

Versel

E F#m7
Please, tell me how you lift these heavy bricks
Adim E
And how you built this path for me to walk on.
E F#m7
You carve yourself in stones with the strength of all convinced,
Adim E
But I know your skin is still as thin as mine.

Prechorus

F#m7
What does it take to believe
B7
In all the things you believe?
F#m7 B7
And maybe I need to listen more carefully.

Chorus

E F#m7 Adim E
I finally know how you stand against the worst there is.

Verse2

E F#m7

You enjoy coffee and Debussy.

Adim

E

I can't believe the calmness in your veins after everything.

E

F#m7

And when she dreams, she sees herself in her Sunday dress,

Adim

E

Humming simple melodies, she's known since she was only three.

Prechorus

F#m7

What does it take to believe

B7

In all the things you believe?

F#m7

B7

And maybe I need to listen more carefully.

Chorus

E

F#m7

Adim

E

I finally know how you stand against the worst there is.

E

F#m7

Adim

E

I finally found the strength you've tried to tell me about.

Bridge

C#7

F#m7

Oh, even when the sky is crashing down,

C#7

B7

You, You locked your knees and stood up straight.

C#7

F#m7

You are the blood inside my veins,

C#7

B7

Oh, I want to feel the strength you know.

Outro

F#m7

What does it take to believe

B7

In all the things you believe?

F#m7

B7

And maybe I need to listen more carefully.
