Sitting in an English garden waiting for the rain to come

Other things get important if you can't see the sun

People standing in the darkness are trying to be bright

You might be blinded by their brightness but don't forget to change your sight

Bridge:

These are crazy days we're living in

Chorus:

Don't believe in miracles, they might be wrong

it's all about money, the heroes are gone

Don't believe in miracles, you don't see the sun

it has disappeared, so dig your own hole

Don't believe in miracles, don't believe in miracles

I don't believe in miracles anymore

The answers of your questions you cannot find in a single book

Do you wanna hear my suggestions?

I think you should leave the way you took

All the people in the corridors wait and stand in line

They want to see what's behind the door well, that's just a question of time
