

Pretty Good Year

Dave Hause

This is a pretty good song, originally written by the loved ones. These chords might not be 100% (i m pretty sure he plays some unorthodox variations of these) but your girlfriend won t be able to tell.

Verse:

D C G D
I ve been working longer hours watching money streaming in
Bm G D A
I ve been trusting crooks and liars like I don t have any friends
Em A D A Bm
I ve been finding myself praying when I m deepest in the sin
G A D
I ve been reinventing happiness again

D C G D
It s been painful resolution set to jubilant applause
Bm G D A
It s soaring highs and crushing lows and grinding in the jaw
Em A D A Bm
It s been begging for forgiveness after laying down the law
G A D
It s been like surgery to work through all the flaws

Chorus:

Bm D G
Will this sober church seem dull to all my friends?
Bm D G
Will you love me if I leave you here again?
D Em G
There s a faith that could tear this whole thing apart
D Em G
But there are drinks that could cause the dancing to start

Verse:

D C G D
I ve been standing at a crossroads for what seems like many days
Bm G D A
If I go will the house fall down will I burn it if stay?
Em A D A Bm
Should I be fighting like coward or running like a brave?
G A D

Will I be laughing like a madman either way?!

Chorus:

Em D G

Will this overture seem dull to all my friends?

Em D G

Will you love me if I leave you here again?

Em D G

When the spell breaks we ll be back to work, what then?

D Em G

There are lies that could tear this whole thing apart

D Em G

But there are drinks that could cause the dancing to start

D Em G

There are lies that could tear this whole thing apart

D Em G

And there are songs that will beg to keep your heart
