Revenge

David Allan Coe

#
#This file is the author s #song. You may only use th: #	is file for privat	e study, scholar	ship, or research. #
#			π
From: aarong@myself.com
Revenge by David Allan Coe and Jim as performed by David Allan	_
Bb El Judy, I feel weary now, old		Bb 33
The gates of Hell just open	Eb ned, after 20 year	F s the warden say	Bb s I m free
F Revenge was all I wanted
Eb When I killed the man that	F took your life th	Bb aat day
I ve had my satisfaction, l	Eb but the price was	F more than love s	Bb hould have to pay
F	Eb
Lord knows you weren t no		esses
F Bb All swore you was to blame
F And the way you teased the	menfolk,
Eb The jury all agreed you kno	Bb ew no shame, knew	F no shame.
Second verse: Well I m glad that you can You d probably say I do not Those lawyers took my money	t look my best	ana road gang to	ok the rest
And Judy I can t even conju

Last verse:

Well it all seems kind of useless
As I place these flowers on your grave today
I don t know what I m doing here,
I ve forgotten all the things I came to say