Ricochet David Bowie

A A

D G Like weeds on a rockface waiting for the scythe Ab Α Ricochet - ricochet D G The world is on a corner waiting for jobs D G Ricochet - ricochet Α E Turn the holy pictures so they face the wall Α And who can bear to be forgotten А And who can bear to be forgotten Α March of flowers, march of dimes

Α These are the prisons, these are the crimes А Men wait for news while thousands are still asleep Α Dreaming of tramlines factories pieces of machinery А Mine shafts things like that Α March of flowers, march of dimes А These are the prisons, these are the crimes А Sound of thunder, sound of gold А Sound of the devil breaking parole Е Ricochet - it s not the end of the world

D Sound of thunder, sound of gold G Sound of the devil breaking parole E A Ricochet - ricochet
D
These are the prisons, these are the crimes
G
Teaching life in a violent new way
D
G
Ricochet - ricochet
E
A
Turn the holy pictures so they face the wall

Α

And who can bear to be forgotten A And who can bear to be forgotten

Α

March of flowers, march of dimes Α These are the prisons, these are the crimes Α Early, before the sun, they struggle off to the gates Α In their secret fearful places they see their lives Α Unravelling before them Α March of flowers - march of dimes Α Sound of thunder, sound of gold А These are the prisons, these are the crimes А Sound of the devil breaking parole Е Ricochet it s not the end of the world

A

But when they get home, damp eyed and weary They smile and crush their children to their heaving chests Making unfulfillable promises For who can bear to be forgotten