I m not saying don t trust all women, I m saying, you know, be careful. Every woman is different. What it s saying is basically, if you re in a relationship, great. In fact if you were going out with her for over 2 years and you ve actually bought her an engagement ring and you re totally loyal to her... Just be careful at a new years eve party that she doesn t get pissed out of her head and you find her in the toilet on all fours with Phil Hickley.
