

A Daily Anthem
David Cook

A Daily Anthem

This song can actually be played without capo. You just hafta know the right chords.

Or maybe you hafta use other tuning (drop A, drop D etc.). Feel free to look for the chords.

I find it easier for my fingers to play with capo. Besides they are simple chords. So here goes...

Capo on 8th Fret

G (3 2 0 0 3 3)
Gmaj9 (2 0 0 0 3 3)
Em (0 2 2 0 0 0)
C (0 3 2 0 1 0)
D (0 0 0 2 3 2)

Intro: G Gmaj9 E C G

G
Break your neck for some substance
C
This is temporary sanity, an exercise in vanity
Em D G
So long, to the ordinary day wrought with fictitious tales
G
Of how there s any other way

G
Hold on to anything at all
C
It s a long way down between the summer and the fall
Em D
If I told you that you re everything,
G C
Would you sing along?
Am
Would you sing along?

G
It s a daily anthem
Gmaj9
Would you sing my song,
Gmaj9
At the top of your lungs?

Em

And we ll all sing along,

C G

We ll all sing along

G

It s a half-baked blessing

Gmaj9

For the lessons I ve learned,

Gmaj9

Never deserved.

Em

And we ll all sing along,

C G

We ll all sing along

C

Now the verses take hold,

C

Em

G

A gentle undercurrent or more years to grow old

C

Say goodbye to the cold

C

Em

D

C

And try to begin everything: there s life

Em D G

As we sing your daily anthem,

Gmaj9

Would you sing my song,

Gmaj9

At the top of your lungs?

Em

And we ll all sing along,

C G

We ll all sing along

G

It s a half-baked blessing

Gmaj9

For the lessons I ve learned,

Gmaj9

Never deserved.

Em

And we ll all sing along,

C G

We ll all sing along

G

Gmaj9

Em

C

G

Oooooohhh - Oooooohhh - Oooooohhh - Oooooohhh 4X

Any found errors or mistake, please do PM me. Thanx!!!