In love with myself In love with my own reflection
With my own affection With the vision that i see

There s nobody else I m taking my own direction
I can see perfection Doing all i can for me

In love with myself...

I can take you to hell I m falling so deep inside it
And i just can t hide it Feel it burning down on me

I dance with myself As hundreds of eyes are waiting
Can t strip completely And the lights are burning me

In love with myself...

Tonight i m gonna meet somebody After all the lights have died
I m still living, But what am i giving?

In love with myself In love with my own reflection
With my own affection With the vision that i see

There s nobody else I m taking my own direction
I can see perfection Doing all i can for me

In love with myself...

Everybody wants your body There s nobody who can take you to heaven We ll make it forever

Tonight i m gonna meet somebody After all the lights have died
I m still living But what am i giving?
