I remember as a child

Well my soul you are the ocean
                           D G
Through the first light
G
And you recognize the river
                         Bm
Weave your hand through the night
                          C
Though I question your existence

I feel you deep inside
