C Am G Dm

She stood on the steps behind a man

C Am G Dm

He lit a cigarette and leaned on the rail

Em G F E

The smell of burning made her head clear
Thinking all the thoughts she hadn't thought for years

Am C F Dm

Everything that we have reminds us what we have lost
Old friends go to war
Love comes love goes

Am C F G

Everything that we have echoes what we desire
She prefers fire

C Am G Dm

Tomorrow no plan will carry her away

C Am G Dm

This evening the man well he wonders what to say

Em G F E

The sparks are lighting up the night sky
Possessions, letters now just fuel for history

Am C F Dm

Everything that we have reminds us what we have lost
Old friends go to war
Love comes love goes

Am C F G

Everything that we have echoes what we desire
She prefers fire

Em D C

And from the bridge she's seen
Water pale and green
She still prefers fire

Em G F E

Am G Dm

Sometimes I dream that everything I own
Could burn up and
Leave me no sadness no home

Bm G F E

A flame collapsing from the inside

Antiseptic, honest blue and purest white

Am C F Dm

Everything that we have reminds us what we have lost

Old friends go to war

Love comes love goes

Am C F G

Everything that we have echoes what we desire

She prefers fire
