Anthem
Deep Purple

Am         Am                D       E                    Am      C      F
When the night winds softly blow    through my open window
Dm      E        Am       C     F    F    Dm        E7
then I start to remember         the girl that brought me joy
Am         Am                D       E        Am         C      F
Now the night winds softly blow     sadness to tomorrow
 F        Dm       E7          Am      C    F
bringing tears to eyes so tired
Dm               E7                   E7
Eyes I thought could cry no more
```

Chorus:
```
A       C#m              F#m                          D
If the day would only come then you might just appear
        C#m              Bm       G                 D
even though you d soon be gone when I reached out my hand
        A        E    D    E
If I could see you (ooohh ooooh)
            A          E     D    E
If only I could see you ooooh ooooh
                   A             D     C#m  F#m
To see if you are laughing    or  crying
A             D A Bm    E    A         Am         Dm E
When the night winds       softly blow

In my dark and whispering room
Memories still bring me a numbness to my feelings
Take my hand and brush my brow
In the warm and fevered dark
Heart is madly beating
My crazy thoughts are burning
When the night winds softly blow

Chorus:
```
A       C#m              F#m                          D
If the day would only come then you might just appear
        C#m              Bm       G                 D
even though you d soon be gone when I reached out my hand
        A        E    D    E
If I could see you (ooohh ooooh)
            A          E     D    E
If only I could see you ooooh ooooh
                   A             D     C#m  F#m
To see if you are laughing    or  crying
A             D A Bm    E    A         Am         Dm E
When the night winds       softly blow
