

You Are Loved
Defiance, Ohio

I couldn't figure out where the D in the verse is played but I just play it as a bar chord and it works, whatever.

G D C
And as the story unfolds over time, things we once knew they do dissolve
G D Em
into the sky. She swears she sees a brand new constellation every time
A C D C G D
somebody we know dies, it is no consolation prize but we will remember you.
G D C
So to get good sleep at night, silence the oracles, they are singing from G D Em A inside. Nobody really wants to know the future, we just want to hear "you'll C D G C Cm
be alright" and we'll be alright. These days they will find us learning that G C Cm
we had it all wrong; but these days they will find us unashamed because we've
G D C
been learning all along, and the radio plays a familiar song.
G D C
And to this magic we hold on, I just don't want to feel its loss until it's
G D Em A D
gone. It was in an eerie glow I finally left you lonely, left the TV on. If I
C Cm G
have one regret it's letting this whole nihilistic shit charade live on! You
C Cm
know it scares the hell out of me when my friends think they have nobody to
G D C
lean on! And the radio plays a familiar song.
G D C G
And in the darkness of my room I keep conversing with the man in the moon. I
D G D Em A
know he's going to tell me something that I want to hear I bet it'll happen
D G D
soon because all the books I've read just don't read right, say to save
C G D
your soul you've got to hide yourself inside, or forget about the world that Em A C D C
you perceive, no, we are here for such a little while. These days they will Cm G C
find us learning that we had it all wrong, but these days they will find us
Cm G D
