The Stream Delorentos

The Stream by Delorentos. Tabbed by Dylan Colley.

This is from their third album, Little Sparks. They do quite a nice acoustic version of this too, for which $R\tilde{A}^3$ nan plays these chords (I think) all as barre chords, except the E which is open.

Has a great rhythm, so listen out for that. Pretty simple altogether.

Verse 1:

Α

The walls are tied into the soul,

(A)

No light to guide or let me know.

Α

And the sea will never let me go,

(A) E

Just hold me and crush me and take control.

А

But you say that and walk out when you don t

 (\mathbf{A})

Know the half of the things that I ve been through

 \mathbf{E})

Even though I love you, you re a fool.

Chorus:

A C# F#m

But the stream, it carries me on

(F#m) A C# F#m

Both the leaves and banks are kissed by the sun

(F#m) A C#

Just take me away to the place

(C#) F#m D

That I went to when I was young

A E A

The stream, it carries me on.

Verse 2:

The fight will tighten up the ropes,

Till feelings gone and freedoms choked.

And a cry will only feed the flame

And the faintest call would be same.

Heartaches and sorrows, floating from the Treetops with nothing to bind them to.

I m tied up, defenceless,

Hanging by a feeling with nothing to fall into. Even though I love you you re a fool.

Chorus...

That s it really, pretty simple. The rhythm might take a tad bit of getting used to for beginners, but you don t have to use their rhythm really.
