Dream On Depeche Mode

The Cheap And Easy Approach

I ve seen the Paris DVD and yes, it does seem Mart plays with a guitar in flat tuning. But isn t it a pain in the ass to do flat tuning? I sure think so! So I came up with the Cheap And Easy Apprach... not only easier to tune, but easy to play too! Here goes:

to play too! Here goes:
Tuning: Drop D Capo 1 (tab relative to the capo)
Main Riff: e B G D 3-00- A 03-0 D -03-0-
Alternate Riff e B G D 555 A 5588
or, if you re amazingly cheap, you can do this:
e
And so the bridge part would go like this:
e B G D 0-3-

Isn t that easy?
Here s the format:

A | ---0-3----D | -5----- On each line of the verse play this: Main Riff x 3 + Alternate Riff

On the chorus, play this twice: Alternate Riff + Main Riff x 2

Bridge: Listen to it, there s alot of those.

For the 2nd guitar in the bridge, who knows? Play with a slide on the first two strings is my advice.

To end, I suggest alternating the main riff like this:

- e | -----
- В | -----
- G -----
- D | ----3-0---0-3-0-
- A | ---0----3-----
- D | -0----0-

Go forth, you lazy ones, and play!

Tell me how big a moron I am at *
