[Kendrick Lamar]

Like the waters in the open sea when tribulation comes all we can say is hopefully And yesterday you can probably say it s no hope for me but today I m overly dedicated I m posed to be a testimony for broken hearts in the city you re either crash landing or planning on flying with me Misery loves standing behind its company well vividly I can see that your feelings would like to dwell On our past encounters, reaching over the counter, told me that it s appealing to pop a pill as a downer I heard emotions burn deep
I heard when you fall out of love the drop is steep I heard when you see a dove that s what you re trying to be Got these burdens under my wings but I m still free cause I can make the decision to let it all go away Before I ever run astray, I look you in the eyes and say

[Dido]
