Love Song 58
Dime Store Prophets

```
-------------------------------------------------
| Love Song #58                                 |
| by: Dime Store Prophets                       |
| CD: Love Is Against The Grain                 |
| from: exarkun@interserv.com (Brian Kurtyka)   |
-------------------------------------------------
```

INTRO: G# Eb C# (x2)

VERSE 1:
G#   Eb   C#
Baby, you always knew how to stand up straight.
G#   Eb   C#
Honey, I gave to you and you gave it all away.
G#   Eb   C#
Oh me, could you sing for me tonight.
G# Eb   C#
I don t care what they say
          G#   Eb
I ll just fill my lungs
    C#
to get it out so sing I...

CHORUS:
        G#   Eb   G#   Eb
When we kissed in the sky we could hold the world by the wings
        C#   Eb   G#
when we sing on the breath of the wind.

Eb C#

VERSE 2:
G#   Eb   C#
Sister, could you be a crutch tonight.
G#   Eb   C#
Giver, my words are clay but in you they mean so much.
G#   Eb   C#
Hold me, hold me up in bitter times.
G#   Eb   C#
All I see are lights ahead,
        G#   Eb   C#
is this fear I hold, I can see your smile, your teenage smile.

CHORUS (x2)

BRIDGE:
Bb   C#   Bb   C#   Bb

Don t let me down, don t let me alone tonight.

G# Eb C#

VERSE 3:
G#   Eb   C#
Mother, when I m scared I can cling to your knee.
G#   Eb   C#
Lover, I ll hold your neck and try to say something sweet.
G#   Eb   C#
Someday I ll be strong enought to say,
G#   Eb   C#   G#   Eb
I once needed to be loved, but when you stand by,
        C#
I can stand alone, I stand alone.

CHORUS (x2)

Eb C# (Till End; End On C#)