

Love Song 58

Dime Store Prophets

-----
| Love Song #58 |
| by: Dime Store Prophets |
| CD: Love Is Against The Grain |
| from: exarkun@interserv.com (Brian Kurtyka) |
-----

INTRO: F C Bb (x2)

VERSE 1:

F C Bb
Baby, you always knew how to stand up straight.
F C Bb
Honey, I gave to you and you gave it all away.
F C Bb
Oh me, could you sing for me tonight.
F C Bb
I don't care what they say
F C
I'll just fill my lungs
Bb
to get it out so sing I...

CHORUS:

F C F C
When we kissed in the sky we could hold the world by the wings
Bb C F
when we sing on the breath of the wind.

C Bb

VERSE 2:

F C Bb
Sister, could you be a crutch tonight.
F C Bb
Giver, my words are clay but in you they mean so much.
F C Bb
Hold me, hold me up in bitter times.
F C Bb
All I see are lights ahead,
F C Bb
is this fear I hold, I can see your smile, your teenage smile.

CHORUS (x2)

BRIDGE:

G Bb G Bb G

Don t let me down, don t let me alone tonight.

F C Bb

VERSE 3:

F C Bb

Mother, when I m scared I can cling to your knee.

F C Bb

Lover, I ll hold your neck and try to say something sweet.

F C Bb

Someday I ll be strong enought to say,

F C Bb F C

I once needed to be loved, but when you stand by,

Bb

I can stand alone, I stand alone.

CHORUS (x2)

C Bb (Till End; End On Bb)