

Love Song 58

Dime Store Prophets

```
-----
| Love Song #58                               |
| by: Dime Store Prophets                     |
| CD: Love Is Against The Grain               |
| from: exarkun@interserv.com (Brian Kurtyka) |
-----
```

INTRO: A E D (x2)

VERSE 1:

A E D
Baby, you always knew how to stand up straight.
A E D
Honey, I gave to you and you gave it all away.
A E D
Oh me, could you sing for me tonight.
A E D
I don't care what they say
A E
I'll just fill my lungs
D
to get it out so sing I...

CHORUS:

A E A E
When we kissed in the sky we could hold the world by the wings
D E A
when we sing on the breath of the wind.

E D

VERSE 2:

A E D
Sister, could you be a crutch tonight.
A E D
Giver, my words are clay but in you they mean so much.
A E D
Hold me, hold me up in bitter times.
A E D
All I see are lights ahead,
A E D
is this fear I hold, I can see your smile, your teenage smile.

CHORUS (x2)

BRIDGE:

B D B D B

Don t let me down, don t let me alone tonight.

A E D

VERSE 3:

A E D

Mother, when I m scared I can cling to your knee.

A E D

Lover, I ll hold your neck and try to say something sweet.

A E D

Someday I ll be strong enought to say,

A E D A E

I once needed to be loved, but when you stand by,

D

I can stand alone, I stand alone.

CHORUS (x2)

E D (Till End; End On D)