There Is A Mountain
Donovan

...THERE IS A MOUNTAIN... by Donovan
-------------------------..........

Intro:

A,
D E, A

A

Verse 1:

    A
The lock upon my garden gate s a snail; that s what it is,
The lock upon my garden gate s a snail; that s what it is.

Chorus 1:

A
 First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.
First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.

Interlude:

A

Verse 2:

A
 Caterpillar sheds his skin to find the butterfly within,
Caterpillar sheds his skin to find the butterfly within.

Chorus 2:

A
 First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.
First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.

Bridge:

     A   F#m
Oh, Jua-nita, oh, Juanita, oh, Juanita, I call your name.
       A
Oh, the snow will be a blinding sight to see,
As it lies on yonder hillside.

Verse 3:

```
    A
```
The lock upon my garden gate s a snail; that s what it is,
The lock upon my garden gate s a snail; that s what it is.
Caterpillar sheds his skin to find the butterfly within,
Caterpillar sheds his skin to find the butterfly within.

Coda:

```
A
```
 First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.
First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.
First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.
First there is a mountain, then there is no mountain; then there is.

(Repeat to Fade)

CHORD DIAGRAMS:

```
    A        D        E        F#m

 EADGBE   EADGBE   EADGBE   EADGBE
 x02220   xx0232   022100   244222
```

Tabbed by Joel from cLuMsY, Bristol, England, 2004 (clumsyband@hotmail.com)