Young kids in Catholic schools
Elderly parents living under your roof

G

You pay the bills and you pay the price

A

You donâ€™t back down and you wonâ€™t play nice

The disgraced values of the company man
Are why you fight and sacrifice
Donâ€™t bend or break for their one-way rules
Or run from battles you know youâ€™ll lose

G

Greed is blinding you but we can see

G

Heâ€™s got yesterdayâ€™s values

Living in tomorrowâ€™s industry

They see your eyes, they see your face
But itâ€™s your soul they wanna take
Yeah, welcome to the future it donâ€™t seem fair
But this is your struggle, the cross you bear

They know your pain, they donâ€™t think twice
Thereâ€™s a dollar value on your life
You donâ€™t compromise and you donâ€™t break
Yeah, itâ€™s your principles at stake

Greed is blinding you but we can see
Heâ€™s got yesterdayâ€™s values
Living in tomorrowâ€™s industry

The daily outlook itâ€™s so bleak

Saving every dollar of every week
Living month to month, youâ€™ve got to get ahead
But all the while falling deeper in debt

Greed is blinding you but we can see
Heâ€™s got yesterdayâ€™s values
Living in tomorrowâ€™s industry

The weight falls hard on the stand-up guy
The one you can count on you can rely
This is your future it donâ€™t seem right
But this is your battle, this is your fight

Something in this country has got to change
If weâ€™re ever gonna see those days again
Your parents may have done it with just one job
But now weâ€™re working for less and twice as hard

Greed is blinding you but we can see
Heâ€™s got yesterdayâ€™s values
Living in tomorrowâ€™s industry
Greed is blinding you but we can see
Heâ€™s got yesterdayâ€™s values
