

Singing About Hating You
Eddplant

G, G/F#, Em, C . . . .

Chords the whole way through other than in parts of the chorus where there is a D in between the Em and C...

For the more beginner guitarists out there, the G/f# is the same as the G only with your index finger on fret 2 instead of 3...

To work out the timing simply watch the video and you should pick it up pretty fast...

Lyrics....

I wrote down
what I thought I felt for you and when I read it back I thought I understood
My love
and the pain it put me through was a facade not worth a dime
a pointless melodrama
Of my design

And this will be the last song that I write about you
And if you think you hear your name
You re mistaken
I ve found somebody else

The world turns
and everything is changing all the time But I ve been standing still and never moving on It s time
I let go of everything Every thought I think of you and all the hate
that holds me down

Chorus...

This is the end I m letting go of everything you said and did to me

It s time that we let bygones by Say goodbye

Chorus...
