

3 Am Acoustic
Edwin McCain

Edwin McCain
3 Am

This is a fantastic song. I believe he plays this song with an electric guitar but I think it sounds better on an acoustic. I saw this song transcribed differently. The chord progression the tabber used was D-D-C-A But I think the song sounds much better with the Bm chord. Good luck. Email me if you have any questions or complaints.
(willymangb@hotmail.com)

Intro: D-Bm-C-A

(Verse 1)

D Bm C A
It s 3AM. And I m awake and my heart is still dreaming.

D Bm C A
It s 3AM. And outside I hear the souls still screaming.

D Bm C A
It s been so long, you know since my head s been this clear.

D Bm C
Just like a ship lost in the night. I just don t know which way I should steer.
A

(Chorus)

Bm A Bm A
But I ll keep chasing my dreams. And only you can make them real.

Bm A
And I pour my heart out every night.

C A
But do you know the way that I feel?

(Verse 2)

D Bm C A
Sometimes this is work. And don t you know sometimes this is play.

D Bm C
Sometimes you are listening to me. And sometimes you don't hear a damn word that I say.
A

D Bm C A
Sometimes there's a girl. Sometimes I go home alone.

D Bm C A
And I guess it's no wonder right now. That I do very well on my own.

(Repeat Chorus)

(Repeat verse 1 slower and arpeggiate the chords)

End