Caught Short In The Long Run
Elliott Murphy

Caught Short In The Long Run â€" Elliott Murphy

Chords:
E: 022100
Asus2:   x02200
A: xx7655
F#m11:   x44200
F#m: x44222
B: x24442
G#m: x66444
C#m: x46654
E5:   xx2400

â€˜Lickâ€™ between E & Asus 2

```
           Eb                                           G#sus 2
e)----0-----0-------0-----------0----------------0--------------|
B)----0---------0------3slide5-------4----0-------0--------------|
G)----2------------------------------------------2--------------|
D)----2------------------------------------------2--------------|
A)----1-----------------------------------------0--------------|
E)----0--------------------------------------------------------|
```

Verse:
Eb   G#sus2
Roll down your window
Eb   G#sus2
Your crying s got everything steamed.
Eb   G#sus2
Roll down your window
Fm11   Bb
It s not as desperate as you make it seem
Eb   G#sus2
You re so young to have seen it
Eb   G#sus2
And now your vision is much too old and much too clear
Eb   G#sus2
You know I m friends with that darkness you ve been seeing
Fm11   Bb
We dated once or twice in earlier years

Eb   G#sus2
And I know that youâ€™re trying
Eb   G#sus2

And believe me I know that it s tough
```
Eb                                              G#sus2
```
But I ve seen you when you re dancing with the children
```
Fm                      Bb
```
Skip ahead to the lighter stuff

Chorus:
```
     Eb             Gm           Cm             G#
```
And tonight when they come I ll say they can t see you no more
```
          Eb             Gm       Cm         G#
```
Cause they ll draw out your life through a fine silver straw
```
            Eb             Gm       Cm       G#      Bb
```
And if I was a hero I would have fought them off at your do-o-or

Solo over   [: E   /   Asus 2:] (x2)

Verse:
```
     Eb                   G#sus2
```
And you€™re thinking of your family
```
       Eb                 G#sus2
```
And you€™re thinking it s been much too long
```
                Eb               G#sus2
```
Because you need some innocence and their order
```
       Fm11                Bb
```
But that medicine is much too strong

```
        Eb                       G#sus2
```
And we re holding so tight and we re falling
```
       Eb                   G#sus2
```
And the funny thing is both are just the same
```
       Eb                      G#sus2
```
You know freedom will find its own amusement
```
         Fm                  Bb
```
And it looks like we ve found a waiting game

```
        Eb                           G#sus2
```
So you torture yourself for that moment
```
          Eb5                        G#
```
When the only thing left is to feel
```
            Eb5                                       G#
```
You know romantics may run free in the darkness
```
                 Fm                      Bb
```
But come the light, they re the first to kneel

Chorus:
```
     Eb             Gm           Cm             G#
```
And tonight when they come I ll say they can t see you no more
```
          Eb             Gm       Cm         G#
```

Cause they ll draw out your life through a fine silver straw
              Eb   Gm   Cm   G#   Bb
And if I was a hero I would have fought them off at your do-o-or Eb   Gm   #m   G#
But the lines we have drawn and the sides we have chosen
              Eb   Gm   Cm   G#
And my own indecision how badly that shows
              Eb   Gm   G#   Fm   Bb
And, God damn, if I was a hero I would have kept our little world clo-o-osed.

End with [: E / A :]