Church chimes ringing just next store

I was looking for something more

Bells tolling for a broken heart

I must love just to fall apart

Came from your lying lips spite of this

[Verse 2]

Am

But you know I was long past that

Dm Am

Keeping cool in my panama hat

Am

Lost weekends in the distant sublime

Dm Am

Take my vacation, sunset lavender time

Just one trick and I do it out of habit

Dm

Am

Back to the hotel fast as rabbits

Am

I smell the perfume on her tender slim wrist

And I keep telling myself it donâ€™t get better than this

The best kiss I never want to miss

Came from your lying lips spite of this

Kids upstairs asleep as a mouse

My own worries are too big for this house

Newspapers try to tell me what matters

Iâ€™m telling you theyâ€™re all as crazy as Manhatters

I remember the shine of her bottom lip

Dm

And the kind of smile that could launch a thousand ships

Sit around nursing my wet memory

Or I could walk upstairs where sheâ€™d be waiting for me

The best kiss I never want to miss
