

Blacktop Train
Ellis Paul

Easy Song: Repeat same four chords throughout the whole song.

Em G D A

ohohoh On a blacktop train, they re rolling like the thunder in a midwest rain ohohoh On a blacktop train, every revolution rides the wheels of change

They poured blacktop two-lane right through the cornfields Laid a stripe right across my back
The wheels came spinning with the wide-eyed crusaders, out on a quest for the trail of Jack Kerouac Silos, scarecrows, American machine, rev up your engines you re as fast as a train Oh my Lord, look how the weather has changed cyclones, dust storms, blacktop trains
cyclones, dust storms, blacktop trains

ohohoh On a blacktop train, they re rolling like the thunder in a midwest rain
ohohoh On a blacktop train, every revolution rides the wheels of change

They re gonna write a new song they blow on by Start a revolution and blow on by It ain t ever gonna be the same

They come east coast, west coast, Chryslers and Oldsmobiles smoke rolling, chrome on the plains Musicians pull over looking over their shoulders at Hank Williams, Buddy Holly lighting the flame Motels, oilwells, truckstop, marines going to California with their pin-up dreams Roll down your window, brother, shout out my name You re on route 66, on a blacktop train route 66, on a blacktop train

ohohoh On a blacktop train, they re rolling like the thunder in a midwest rain
ohohoh On a blacktop train, every revolution rides the wheels of change
