

60 Years On
Elton John

B                      A                      G                      F#
Who ll walk me down to church when I m sixty years of age
Em                      F#
When the ragged dog they gave me has been ten years in the grave
B                      A                      G                      F#
And señorita play guitar, play it just for you
Em                      F#                      B
My rosary has broken and my beads have all slipped through

B                      A                      G                      F#
You ve hung up your great coat and you ve laid down your gun
Em                      F#
You know the war you fought in wasn t too much fun
B                      A                      G                      F#
And the future you re giving me holds nothing for a gun
Em                      F#
I ve no wish to be living sixty years on

B                      A                      G                      F#
Yes I ll sit with you and talk let your eyes relive again
Em                      F#
I know my vintage prayers would be very much the same
B                      A                      G                      F#
And Magdalena plays the organ, plays it just for you
Em                      F#
Your choral lamp that burns so low when you are passing through
B                      A                      G                      F#
And the future you re giving me holds nothing for a gun
B                      A                      B
I ve no wish to be living sixty years on
