VERSE

	Am	D
Freedom for the scape goat, let him rot in jail
Gloomy eyes, just pissed his heart like crucifixion nails
Shake his fists and raise his beam, he never stood a chance
When the angry red mob on Fleet Street you turned your eyes to friends

VERSE

Humble thought from Dublin chased across the waves

Your body still sharp enough to slice through every page

Am Bm/A

Destitute and beaten by the system of the crown

Am G Bb/F F E7 Am

The bitter pill you swallowed take the sweet of going down

Dm E7 Am
And looking back with a great indifference

Dm E7 Am
Looking back at the lime stone walls

Bb Am
Thinking how beauty deceived you

Dm E7sus E7
Knowing how the fools are fought

A golden boy in velvet landed in New York

Am D
The past was so seductive when they paid to hear you talk

Am Bm/A
Baccarat and champagne flutes, tobacco from Virginia

Am G Bb/F F E7 Am
Long before the lords and Lord granted Oscar Wilde a sinner

Dm E7 Am
Looking back on a cold, bleak winter

Dm E7 Am
Looking back on those long, dark days

Bb Am
Set like the head of Joan the Baptist

Dm E7sus E7
In the other sour May
