```
45
Elvis Costello
(play stacatto)
Α5
            G5
                 D5 C5
Bells are chiming for victory
              C5
                      G5
There s a page back in history
  D5 A5
45
                G5
                       D5
They came back to the world that they fought for C5
                  G5
Didn t turn out just like they thought
A5 D5 A5
45
                     D/F#
                                E/G#
          Е
Here is a song to sing to do the measuring
D/A
                              E/B
                                                     (guitar+bass)
What do you lose, what do you gain, what do you win?
Nine years later a child is born
There s a record, so you put it on
Nine years more, if we re lucky now
Nine-year-old puts his money down
Every scratch. every click, every heartbeat
Every breath that I held for you
There s a stack of shellac and vinyl
Which is yours now and which is mine?
45
Here is a song to sing to do the measuring
What do you lose, what do you gain, what do you win?
Α5
                    D5
Bass and treble heal every hurt
               C5 G5
There s a rebel in a nylon shirt
              G5
                   D5
But the words are a mystery, I ve heard
F#5
                        в5
                                    (F#m and Bm on organ)
Til you turn it down to 33 and 1/3
             G5
                      D5 C5 D5
Cos it helps with the elocution
             C5
                 G5
```

Corporations turn revolutions

45

So don t just weep and shed

Just change your name instead

What do you lose when it all goes to your head?

I heard something peculiar said:
Perhaps he s got a shot and now he s dead
45

Bells are chiming and tears are falling
It creeps up on you without a warning
45
Every scratch, every click, every heartbeat
Every breath that I bless
I d be lost, I confess
45

A G A G to fade