

My Little Blue Window
Elvis Costello

D A D
This is a calling card

G D A
Maybe it will be a farewell note

G Dinv Em D
The poison fountain pen now requires the antidote

G D
And if I avert your gaze

G D A
And I should become a shrinking flower

G Dinv
Just punch me on the arm

Em D
This could be our finest hour

Bm Bm/A
Til now this was my view
Bm/Ab G7M
But I m counting on you
D
How am I ever going to make you see?
Bm C C B Am
Nothing in this ugly world comes easily
I want you to be...

G D G D
My lovely hooligan
G D G D
Come by and smash my pane
G D G D
Til I can see right through
G D G D
My little blue window

This is a fingerprint
Maybe you will feel a fond caress
But when you start to speak
Are you tempted to confess?

Well, I was a gloomy soul
Never thought I d see a brighter day
The dark interior
Blows those silver clouds away

Til now this was my view
But I m counting on you
How am I ever going to make you see?

Nothing in this ugly world comes easily
I want you to be...

My lovely hooligan
Come by and smash my pane
Til I can see right through
My little blue window
(repeat twice)
