        C#                   D#m
     But today I hear only one sound

   C#                    F#   G   G#
     Young bird flying,           and a soft wind blowing

  Close my eyes,                hear the flowers growing

  As you lay sleeping in my arms
          F#                C#
  And the time will be our time
          F#                  C#
