Intro C

C

On the museum island,

G

At the end of the day,

C

we had travelled for miles,

G

We had come to escape

F

All the space on the page

C

Am

That the newspapers gave

G

F

C

Up to pictures and pictures of us.

C

As we followed the coffin

G

Of your famous father.

C

Adjusting our skirts

G

As we turned at the altar.

F

And within every word

C

Am

That they d written, was spelt out

G

F

C

You d taken your last ever bus.

C

So skimming the surface

G

Of all your new money,

C

we skimmed the surface

G

Of the air as we flew.

F

we were out of the rain,

C

Am

we were thinking that maybe

G

F

C

Berlin was the place to renew.

F

well you know what they say

C

About terrible hate -

Am

It will breed something good

C

When it s through.

F

At the end of the day,

C

Am

By the Potsdamer Place

G

F

And the Brandenburg Gate,

C

It was you.

hold C for interlude

C

You have hardened completely

G

By the end of this story,

C

You have learned to look clear

G

Through the flash of a bulb,

C

When you hear your own name

G

From the back of a crowd,

C

You just straighten your gaze,

G

No you don t turn around.

F

Oh but there was a time

C

At the end of the day,

Am

We were both stood in line

C

At the museum display,

F

And you outshone the light

C

Under which you were bathed,

Am

You could outshine the sky

C

With the look that you gave,

F

Oh so don't be afraid

C

To look back and wave,

Am

C

Now that waving is all that you do.

F

At the end of the day,

C

Am

By the Potsdamer Place,

G

F

C

I am waving back at you.

hold C for interlude

F

So don't be afraid

C

To look back and wave,

Am

C

Now that waving is all that you do.

F

At the end of the day,

C

Am

By the Potsdamer Place,

G

F

C

I am waving back at you.
