3 AM and sleep must be the last thing on my mind

Thinking about the last time that I really felt alive

D

Staring blankly at that road that stretches far ahead

G

I donâ€™t know when ill get back, or when I even left

Bm

Think of lines and dreams and drives and hives that I just met

G

All along my eyes they burn while dreaming of my bed

A D G

And its a long way home

A D G

Another long day gone

Bm A G

Oh wont you take me home

Won t ya

Morning strums the chaos dies and still I feel a mix

I canâ€™t recall what home feels like or if it still exists

And this long drive is suicide that never finishes

Think of life through every mile and I still smell her skin

Now Iâ€™m losing track of time in here the suns about to rise

Thinking how these moments are the soundtracks to our lives

And I canâ€™t wait to taste the air of California skies

Take me home to all my own, the home that I canâ€™t find

And its a long way home

Another long day gone

Oh wont you take me home

Take me home

Running back into that place from where I ran away

Bm

Breathing every moment in that soon the time will take

D / Bm

Think of all the scars; the stars; the hearts I had to break

G

One day I will find the time I never had to take

And itâ€™s a long way home

Another long day gone

x4

Oh wont you take me home
