

Living In The Afterlife

Eric Hutchinson

Living in the Afterlife-Eric Hutchinson

What a great song by Eric Hutchinson!

It makes me really sad that not many people know about him when he totally deserves more recognition.

Anyways, this is my very first tab so please don't be too critical.

I'm pretty sure that most, if not all chords are at least somewhat correct. Enjoy!

INTRO: Alternate between E and A

[VERSE I]

E A E A E A E A

Life gets lost inside itself

E A E A E A E A

Flash back now as someone else

A

Playback your life in the blink of an eye

G

Is this what you were supposed to be like

E

Take a picture

Take a picture

Take a picture

E A E A

Take a picture of yourself

[CHORUS]

E A

And say good-bye to the old you

A E

Now you're living in the afterlife

E A

Say good-bye to the old you

A E

Now you're living in the afterlife

E A

You can try if you want to

A E

But the memory will not survive

G

Now you're living you're living

A

You re living in the afterlife

E A E A

[VERSE II] Same chord progression as verse 1

Rip yourself out of the blur

See if you miss who you were
Life s meant for living so might as well try
Plug in to the action and electrify
Take a picture
Take a picture of yourself

[BRIDGE] (The bridge is a little iffy)

B

You are taking a picture of right now

A

So you can remember yourself

C#m

Once you re somebody else

B

And you can t afford your youth

B

And all the time you thought you were controlling

C#m

Trying your best to hold on

A

You were already gone

E

And now you re living the truth
